To Whom It May Concern,

This is an endorsement of the professional security firm Bulletproof Securities, Inc. Empire engaged the services of Bulletproof on multiple occasions in 2008 and over a few days recently in 2009. We experienced remarkable attention to detail, professional consulting and flawless execution from this firm.

The type of services that were provided by Bulletproof related to corporate security due to employee reductions in our work force in volatile markets where Empire conducts business. Bulletproof advised us and consulted on our needs, made recommendations for processes to follow, orchestrated their team to ensure maximum security, and attended announcement meetings at multiple sites with our CEO and executives. We had a few incidents with angry employees that were quickly managed and monitored by Bulletproof with no injuries and zero disruption to the workplace.

The management and staff of Bulletproof have been appropriately involved in advance planning and then pre-training of our supervisors prior to each action; but their approach has been to blend in and remain completely inconspicuous, while increasing our sense of confidence and achieving 100% safety for everyone involved.

On behalf of Empire's CEO and owner, Jeff Whiteman, and Jim Smith, Vice President, who share my respect and appreciation of Bulletproof Securities Inc., I can say with confidence that we highly recommend them and will engage their services in the future based on complete satisfaction and the knowledge that they deliver on their commitments.
